

MADISON READY FOR THE VOTE

All The Candidates For The Senate And Their Friends Again Appear On Scene.

STEPHENSON HAS GAINED IN FAVOR

Members Returning For Rest Of Session Find He Stands
Well With Their Constituents--May Help
His Chances.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 9.—With the arrival of the candidates and industrious friends yesterday and last night the contest for the seat of United States Senator Spooner has resumed. It will rage all this week, but there may be no test of the relative strength of the several aspirants until the first ballot of the legislature is taken at noon next Tuesday.

Only Talk Yet
While there is much talk of holding a republican caucus, and many members of the legislature insist that such a meeting ought to be held not later than Thursday night, Lieutenant Governor W. D. Connor, who as chairman of the republican state central committee would have the calling of the caucus, has not indicated anything as to his intention along this line.

A Result
At the recent secret caucuses of friends of the candidates it was announced that a caucus would be called of the republicans in the legislature for the purpose of making a party nomination, but whether this announcement was made with the authorization of Mr. Connor is not known.

Out for Davidson
There is no longer any doubt of the fact that Mr. Connor desires the election of Governor Davidson, and this fact may possibly have to do with the calling of the republican nominating caucus.

Stephenson Gains
One thing was apparent as the members returned to the legislature after spending a week in consultation with their constituents, which was that Isaac Stephenson of Marinette was much stronger than he was prior to the Easter recess. Some members declare they found the sentiment in their districts strong for him, both because he had done much to maintain the movement for reform in Wisconsin and because his announced declaration to seek re-election for the full term two years hence would give the other candidates equal opportunity to make the canvass for the nomination which will be made in the primary election a year from the coming September.

Some Changes
It is said by some members that in the event of Mr. Stephenson's election for the short term, neither Congressman Cooper nor Congressman Esch would be a candidate for the long term, as they could not run for nomination for re-election to congress and for nomination for senator at the same primary election, and neither is willing to hazard being retired to private life when they are practically sure of remaining in congress if they so desire.

Big Following
Realizing that the big fight will occur this week, each candidate is accompanied by a number of political friends who will boost the interests of the various candidates. While legislative work may be expected to be greatly interfered with by the senatorial fight, the assembly worked through a somewhat lengthy calendar last night and has a longer one for today, and members are disposed to make things move for it is realized that hard work must be done if the present session is to be completed before the middle of June.

Question of Sale of the Elkhorn Cemetery—Baker's Residence Option Saloon Bill Passed.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 9.—The assembly today unanimously refused to sustain Gov. Davidson's veto of the bill authorizing the city of Elkhorn to sell its old cemetery. Assemblyman Sprague took the floor to save his bill, and said, "When his excellency got out his fifteen-inch drum to go after my poor, little bill, it might have been expected that its fate would have been that of a humming bird in the face of a battery of artillery, but I beg your attention for a few minutes to see if we cannot find a little life left in the bird." After he got through the assembly voted in his favor 22 to 0.

The assembly also passed J. F. Baker's residence district saloon option bill, which was known as the Thayer bill two years ago and at that time. The bill gives any residence district the power to keep out saloons. A long debate began on the Mains bill for the Gothenburg liquor dispensary system to have only one saloon in each city. The debate was not finished.

Two Witnesses in Recent Case Arrested—They Claimed Immunity of Court.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Kenosha, Wis., April 9.—A confession resulted this afternoon from the arrests of Frank L. Jackson and Ethel by Montgomery, two of the best known young men in this part of the state, on the charge of perjury. The arrests are the result of the conviction of Edward Collier, the automobile expert, for running down and killing Wm. Dreyer of Wheaton, Ill., last July. The two men were witnesses for the defense. They claim immunity on account of an alleged statement made by the district attorney when they gave their evidence on which the warrant for the arrest of Collier was based. The prosecution alleges that the two men violated the agreement.

Anniversary of Peace Declaration.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Ill., April 9.—Elaborate preparations have been completed for the seventeenth annual Appomattox day banquet of the Hamilton club, in commemoration of the first day of peace, to be given at the Auditorium this evening. Governor Deneen and numerous other guests are to be present. Congressman Francis W. Cushman of Washington will speak for the Pacific slope to the east. "Our Country," Congressman A. O. Statton of Kentucky will speak for the south to the west, "Robert E. Lee," and Ex-Senator William E. Mason of Illinois will respond to the toast, "The Commander-in-Chief."

Jefferson City, Mo., April 9.—The Missouri legislature, which adjourned its regular session less than a month ago, reassembled in extra session today to give attention to measures which, in the opinion of Governor Folk, should have been but were not passed at the regular session. Even by giving close attention to business it is probable that the special session will occupy thirty days and possibly longer.

The specific subjects which are to be considered and acted upon are: To enact such legislation as may be necessary to provide for the regulation of the rates of public corporations; to provide legislative enactments for the enforcement of the drams laws throughout the state; to provide for the recall or removal of delinquent officials; to enact laws relating to the police systems of cities of 100,000 inhabitants or more; to provide an enactment with an emergency clause for the suppression of race-track gambling.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Council Bluffs, Ia., April 9.—In preparation for the new law, the Chicago Northwestern railroad is closing scores of its smaller telegraph offices throughout Iowa. Twenty on the Galena division alone have been discontinued and many others will be closed. The railroads are unable to secure operators sufficient to man the offices, now that this class of men only work nine hours. The operators are being moved to the larger offices where it is necessary to have three instead of two, as formerly.

Deny Report
Chicago, April 9.—An official of the North-Western railroad says the nine-hour law has nothing whatever to do with the laying off of the operators. He said it was the custom when the winter's work was over to reduce the telegraph force. Besides this 150 miles of automatic signals have been added recently and all operators formerly employed are not needed now.

DELMAS POWERFUL WHEN HE APPEALS TO JURY IN BEHALF OF HARRY THAW

Wonderful Defensive Argument Is Heard In Famous New York Murder Trial
Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, April 9.—Delmas resumed his address to the Thaw jury at 10:35. He began by briefly running over his address of yesterday. In order to connect the fragments, Delmas then turned the course of his argument to the effect that Evelyn's story had upon Thaw's mind. Jerome was again absent from the court room today, while Delmas was carrying forward his arguments.

Delmas said he would prove the truth of Evelyn Thaw's testimony that Jerome had tried to disprove, that she refused Thaw's offer of marriage in Paris because "she loved him so much that she would not drag him down." He read abstracts from a letter written by Thaw to Attorney Longfellow in which Thaw said Evelyn had refused him point blank because "she said it would shut me out from my relatives." Delmas said the genuineness of the letter could not be denied. With Evelyn's story working in his mind, Delmas declared Thaw could think of nothing else. Her story haunted him always, he felt he had a mission to fulfill. Delmas bitterly denounced White, saying "Thaw had snatched the girl from the old leecher who saw in her but a tool to gratify moments of lust and then he cast aside to go her way down the paths of fallen women."

Delmas called the jury's attention to the fact that as late as May, 1906, White had told May MacKenzie he would yet get Evelyn back. He pictured Thaw's excitement on hearing this and said it was a cause for the young husband to lose his reason. "Delmas' oratory held the rapt attention of the jury and court room. He said after Thaw had rescued Evelyn from White in 1903, Thaw feared thenceforth the architect had designs upon his life and that once he was removed the girl would "be left unprotected at the mercy of her ravasher."

Delmas asked the jurors to place themselves in the place of the defendant and then to do their duty to Thaw. The court took a recess at 12:30 until 2:00, when Delmas continued his argument. He resumed his address at 2:07. Following the recess Delmas brought the narrative of his argument down to the events of the night of the tragedy—June 25, last. He contended Thaw was insane when he shot and killed White, and reviewed exhaustively the testimony adduced on this subject.

Delmas said the species of insanity from which Thaw suffered was insanity which makes every American man believe his home is sacred. Delmas concluded his argument at 3:17 and the court adjourned until tomorrow morning, when Jerome will begin the final argument for the state.

MURDERER OF COUNT MAY GET FREEDOM

Gossip Regarding Recent Tragedy In Goldfield Predicts Acquittal For Soldier of Fortune.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Goldfield, Nev., April 9.—The recent killing of Count Constantine Podhorsky by John G. Hines, one of the familiar figures on the Pacific coast and in Alaska, continues the staple of conversation in all circles here. The tragedy occurred two weeks ago and anything that can hold interest hereabouts for so long a period must necessarily possess elements far out of the ordinary.

Both the slayer and his victim were soldiers of fortune and were well known from San Francisco to Nome. The Count, by reason of his connections, moved in the best circles and Hines, because of his winning personality and accomplishments, was well received everywhere. Both were men of fiery spirit. The Count was of the nobility and Hines was a native Kentuckian, so that there was little to choose between them when it came to dare devil gallantry and love of adventure.

Count Podhorsky came to Goldfield several months ago. He represented himself as a former Lieutenant in the czar's bodyguard. It is said that his father, now dead, was once Russian ambassador to Great Britain. The Count was a bachelor and claimed to be a man of wealth. However, this may be it is certain that he was always well supplied with money. While he made no heavy investments here he was understood to be financially interested in several Alaskan ventures.

It was probably in the far north that Hines and Count first met. Both had spent several seasons in Nome and had also met during the winters in Seattle or in San Francisco. Hines has been engaged at various times in business in San Francisco and elsewhere, but during a good part of the time has managed to live well by his wits. Several years ago he was married to Miss Edith Marr, belonging to a prominent California family and the granddaughter of Henry Meigs, who built the Meigs wharf at San Francisco. Mrs. Hines is a woman of striking beauty and it was she who was the direct, though probably innocent cause of the tragedy which resulted in the killing of Count Podhorsky.

On the night of the tragedy, Hines and his wife went to a French restaurant here conducted by Victor Agan, the wrestler. Hines walked into the bar room, while his wife entered the dining room. Count Podhorsky was seated at one of the tables and, seeing her, invited her to partake of dinner with him. She had just entered a place at the table when her husband entered and without hesitation walked toward the Count and when within a few feet of him drew a revolver and killed him.

Immediately after the shooting, Hines, his face almost obscured by the smoke of the revolver, turned to the terrified patrons of the restaurant and exclaimed: "Ladies and gentlemen, I want to say that this man seduced that woman," pointing to his wife. "He ruined my life and now I am prepared to pay the penalty for slaying the dog."

Public sentiment appears to be in favor of the prisoner, and the general opinion is that, by pleading the unwritten law at his trial, the verdict will probably be one of not guilty.

grimage to the great Father of Waters in the spring and remained there until late in the fall spending the summer months dragging the river for clams that might contain precious pearls similar to those Cleopatra dissolved in vinegar and drank before Anthony, or those which were cast before swine of biblical days.

Thus far in his seven years' labors
he has never found a pearl of great value, but has made several rich hauls of slugs and smaller pearls which find a ready market. Mr. Ablee is a veteran of the civil war, having served through that struggle with the 4th Iowa, fighting with his regiment through the Pen Ridge campaign and at Vicksburg. Mr. Ablee was wounded at Vicksburg. Over on the Mississippi Mr. Ablee owns five boats—a houseboat in which he lives, a gasoline launch which he uses for his clam fishing, and three row boats or flatboats which he also uses.
During the summer he lives on the river moving up and down a strip of water within a radius of ten miles each way from Prairie du Chien. The method of fishing for clams is unique. A long flat bar of metal, twelve to fourteen feet long, is lowered into the water with hooks made of telegraph wire attached. This is dragged along the bottom and when it hits a clam the shell closes and it is caught. Every so often it is hauled up, while a second one is dropped over, and the fisherman takes the clams from one while the other is loading up. Five to ten bushels of shells constitute a good haul. Six years or more ago fifteen to twenty were the usual result of a day's work. About the same period there were four or five hundred or more fishermen hunting for the pearls, where now there are probably a hundred and fifty. After the fisherman has his days' catch he takes the clams ashore and boils them. This separates the meat from the shell.

The shells are then looked over carefully for pearls, are sorted out as those suited for making buttons and piled up to dry. The meats are then placed upon long tables and carefully investigated, as often pearls are found in the flesh. This flesh is used by farmers for chicken and pig food. It is no value commercially. The shells sell at prices ranging from ten to twelve dollars a ton and a third of those caught are valueless, making the profits from this small. Aside from the shells and pearls, slugs are found. These are imperfect formations of various shapes. They are sold by the ounce, ranging in price from two to six dollars. An ounce of slugs is found in a ton of shells on the average. The fishermen figure on making their expenses from the slugs and shells and their profit from the pearls. Mr. Ablee has found many of these, the highest price he has received was sixty dollars. Pearls valued at twenty-six hundred have ever been found in the same waters he is to fish over this year and he hopes to be lucky this time.

MILTON

Milton, April 9.—The sudden and unexpected death of Edwin H. Milton, assistant cashier of the Bank of Milton, on Sunday shocked the community. Deceased had been in usual health until Friday afternoon, when he went home suffering from pleurisy.
Death resulted from pneumonia of the heart. Mr. Milton during his long connection with the bank formed an extensive acquaintance and had the respect and esteem of all with whom he did business. He was a quiet, modest gentleman of the kind that make any community better by their having lived in it. He was a veteran of the Civil war with an honorable record. His death leaves a vacancy in business circles that it will be difficult to fill. As wife and daughter, Mrs. R. B. Tolbert of New York city, are left to mourn the death of a loving husband and father and all sorrow with them. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. from his late residence.

Mrs. R. S. Howard

Phebe Ann Childs, only daughter of Isaac D. and Lodema Childs, was born in Worcester, N. Y., July 14, 1850. When but a child she moved with her parents to a farm near here and spent the most of a useful life in this vicinity. She was married August 26, 1866, to Rush S.
Howard, who died about three years ago. Of this union seven children were born, all of whom are living except one daughter, Ora, who died about nine years ago at the age of eighteen years. She united with the North Johnstown church early in life but several years ago changed her membership to the Milton Congregational church, of which she had ever been a faithful member. She fell asleep in Jesus April 2, 1907, at the age of fifty-six years eight months and eighteen days, after a long and lingering illness in which she bore her suffering with great patience and fortitude. She was a loved member of the Harmony W. C. T. U., a faithful and devoted wife and a loving mother, a good neighbor and a greatly esteemed and beloved by all who knew her. There will be a vacant place not only in the home circle and around the family fireside, where her loss will be keenly felt, but also in the hearts of the people of the entire community. She leaves to mourn her loss: three daughters—Daisy M. Bingham and Katie A. Bacon of Milton and Minta L. McComb of Lima Center; and three sons—Jesse R. and Grant S. Howard of Hamock, Wis., besides a large circle of sorrowing relatives and friends to mourn her untimely death. Funeral services were held in the Congregational church last Thursday afternoon, conducted by the pastor, Rev.
A. L. McClelland, assisted by Rev.
A. H. Heston, special music was quartette sang their beautiful songs.
Many beautiful flowers were tokens of love and sympathy. The casket was borne to the grave in Milton cemetery by the sons and sons-in-law. And many friends gathered to show their appreciation of her life.

five Years.

With the close of the present

EDWARD SMITH

birthday occurs next Friday Mr.
Smith will be retired by reason of the age limit and his name will be placed on the road's pension list. Mr.
Smith's career has been a credit to both himself and his employer. He was born in King George's county, Virginia, but his boyhood days were largely spent in the city of Washington. At the age of seventeen he struck out in the world and his first home was in Dubuque, Ia. In the spring of 1865 he began work for the North-Western and ever since has been actively engaged in caring for their interests. His promotion from lineman to foreman came rapidly and in the latter position he has always been regarded as one of the company's ablest servants.

BRODHEAD MAN HAS
GOLDFIELD STOCKS

Bringing in Hundred Dollars Per Month.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Brodhead, April 9.—K. O. Loftus is among the lucky ones to hold shares in the wonderful Goldfield mines in Colorado. He purchased fifteen hundred shares at 25 cents each, sold five hundred for what he whole cost him and owns one thousand for nothing. These will bring him ten per cent. of what they are now worth, or about one hundred dollars per month.

Mr. M. C. Broughton, of Marinette, came to Brodhead on Saturday evening, and is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Broughton.

The union evangelistic meetings which have been conducted in Broughfinest, earnest preachers of Rev. Mr. Lowry.

The actual number of converts is 209. A handsome sum of about four hundred dollars was raised and presented to Mr. Lowry.

tures of Educated Goats and Other

edy sketch of Spaulding & Dupree, the feats in ventriloquism by L. T.
Johnson, the illustrated songs by

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Janesville Household
Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Janesville readers.

Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, of 53 Terrace St., Janesville, Wis., says: "I have been troubled with a very weak back and continuous pain with a heavy bearing-down pain in the joints.
I did not understand my trouble at first and used a lot of remedies that did not help me, but since I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the People's Drug Co., I have been rid-of my old complaint, and it gives me pleasure to recommend the remedy that cured me."

cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo,

A Remarkable Calf.—Mr. E. T. Reynolds of Emerald Grove has a cow of Durham breed that has just given birth to a calf that weighed 112 pounds. We think this is about as big a calf of this variety, as we have ever known of.

The Weather.—This day has been mild and balmy enough to entitle it to a paragraph, although fair weather seems to be a long time coming. Notwithstanding the lateness of the season which forms the staple of considerable grumbling among croakers, it is not worse in this respect than many that have gone before. Turning back to our files of five years ago, (1862) we find the following cool paragraph:

"As a matter of record we state what nobody here needs to be told that one of the severest snow storms of the year occurred during the day and night of the 7th of April. The spring is very backward and sowing and planting will be hurried work when the chance for that kind of work arrives."

Five years ago this morning the snow was eight inches deep in Janesville, and one of our citizens who had occasion to go to the neighboring town, met with such obstructions on his way that he left his team and returned home on the cars.

SAVED FROM THE GALLOWS.

Sentences of Mrs. Myers and Frank Hottman Commuted.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 9.—The sentences of death imposed upon Mrs. Aggie Myers of Kansas City and Frank Hottman of Higginsville, Mo., who were convicted of having murdered the woman's husband, Clarence Myers, in 1904, were commuted by Gov. Folk Monday to imprisonment for life. The prisoners will at once be brought to the state penitentiary here. Mrs. Myers is confined in the Clay county jail at Liberty and Hottman is in the Kansas City jail.

The appeal of the case of Mrs. Myers to the supreme court of the United States will now be dismissed by her attorneys. In a message to the secretary of state relative to the action in commuting the sentences, Gov. Folk states that he believes that public morals will be better conserved by commuting the sentence of Mrs. Myers to life imprisonment than by hanging her. In the case of her accomplice, Frank Hottman, he said, similar facts to those in the Myers case exist and for that reason he also commuted Hottman's sentence.

Flannels are Soft and Pliable, Washed

with Beach's Peosta Soap

Rubbing thickens flannels and should be avoided; hence the importance of using Peosta Soap which releases the dirt readily, and keeps all the Woolens soft and pliable.

9.—Shake flannels well before putting into water. Use three tubs, the water to be as warm as comfortable to the hand, and the same temperature in all three tubs. Make a good suds in first tub, by using the dissolved Peosta Soap. (See Ad. No. 2) wash flannels in this by soaping and squeezing. If very soiled they may be soaked, but only a few moments. When washing flannels only two or three garments should be put in the tub at one time. Rinse in mild suds in second tub, and again in third tub of clear water. Be sure water is of same temperature in all three. A little bluing may be used in the third water if liked. Put through wringer, shake well, and slightly dry the low way and dry quickly—out of doors if possible, but do not freeze woolens. The color of blue flannels or cotton goods may be revived by adding a little vinegar to the rinsing water.

The Peosta Way is the Only Safe Way.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Generally fair tonight; Wednesday warmer; west Wednesday.

CORPORATE WEALTH.

The fact is not generally recognized that all of the transportation and eighty-five per cent of the manufacturing industries of the country are incorporated, and that twenty billions of capital is actively employed by these corporations.

A writer for one of the magazines recently said that these great industries furnish employment for 15,000,000 people, and then estimates that, including the families represented, $900 represents the per capita investment.

In other words, if the capital employed to keep this large army busy, was divided up and equally distributed each employee would have less than $1,000.

The prejudice which just now exists towards corporations and combinations, has reached a point where many people believe that these companies should be abandoned, and while the distribution of property is not openly advocated, yet the feeling is more or less prevalent that some radical measure should be adopted along this line.

It is doubtless true that if this large block of capital was equally distributed, the nation would have a holiday of unusual hilarity, while the money lasted, but what would become of the factories and railroads, and what would become of the people when the money was gone.

The average man who never possessed a dollar would be as crazy as a bedbug, if he should wake up some morning and find $1000 to his credit in the bank. Some years ago a laboring man in Reedsburg had the misfortune to draw a $20,000 prize in the Louisiana lottery. He abandoned his work, built a $10,000 house and lived like a prince, while the money lasted, but in less than five years was without a dollar and back at his old job, a poorer man than ever before.

It is well for the country that corporations exist, and that men with money and ability to make money are willing to invest it in industries rather than in bonds.

The average American is not a captain of industry, neither is he a financier. He is infinitely better off working for somebody else than for himself. This is a plain statement of a fact so self-evident that any candid mind will recognize it, and there is nothing humiliating in the recognition.

The man who works faithfully and intelligently under direction, is always in line of advancement and opportunities were never so abundant as today. The income without financial responsibility is free from worry and anxiety, and the great army of American workmen are earning more money today than they could possibly make it in business for themselves.

The trend of the age is toward concentration and this means a combination of money and interests. There is no law that can stop it, and it is well for the masses that this is the case. That some abuses should occur is to be expected, but they are insignificant as compared to the benefits resulting. The land is prosperous beyond compare and there is but little cause for legitimate complaint.

One of the small manufacturers of Janesville has been making a single-handed fight on the mail order houses for the past year, with great success. He advertised freely and persistently that he would meet all mail order competition, quality considered. Two mail order catalogs were kept on his desk for ready reference; his goods sold rapidly, and today he is unable to keep up with his trade. Any wide-awake business man can do the same if he will go about it intelligently and keep everlastingly at it.

That the large tract of land south of the city recently bought by the Chicago and North-Western Railway company is soon to be occupied is not a question of doubt. That the city will be benefited as a result, is equally certain. Janesville will soon be on the map as a railroad town, and people who are afraid of the cars will do well to take to the woods.

For the first time in the history of Janesville all the banks are advertising in the daily papers. It is a mighty good thing for the city as well as for the banks. All of these institutions show a marked increase in business. There's nothing that adds so much to the reputation of a city as substantial banking houses. Janesville has them, and the people have confidence in them.

The tobacco acreage promises to be larger this year than last. The two-million-dollar crop of 1906 has stimulated the industry, and many new sheds will be in demand.

The banks of Janesville are carrying deposits today of more than four million dollars. This speaks well for the prosperity of the community.

Municipal ownership will no longer annoy the taxpayers of Chicago.

ALL SPOKE WELL OF THE WORK.

In a little conversation recently a lady said:

"Dr. Richards, a queer coincidence occurred a little while ago at a party I attended."

"A number of us ladies were sitting together in the corner and we spoke of having just been to the dentist's."

"Where did you go?" one asked.

"To Dr. Richards," was the reply.

"Why, that's my dentist," said she.

"He does my work too," spoke up a third.

"Mine too," said the fourth.

"And mine," said the fifth.

And sure enough, all five ladies were patients of Dr. Richards.

"Well," said Dr. Richards, "what did they say as to my work and spoke well of you?" she replied.

"And why shouldn't they?"

"No dentist takes more pains to avoid hurting than he."

"No dentist does better work."

"No dentist is more reasonable in his charges."

Such a combination ought to make people speak well of his work.

Try him yourself for your next needed dentistry.

FLOUR

is much like any other food—some brands good, some poor, some indifferent as to quality. The really good flours are not many. The brands that make good bread and whose qualities are the same in every sack, are the kind the housewife ties to.

VICTORY

Fancy Patent Flour is one of the few good flours which can be relied upon. It's the same high quality year around—makes that delicious wheaten bread that has substance and flavor. Your grocer can get you a sack of Victory if he does not carry it. You can telephone us if he will not get it for you.

Pasteurized MILK

Yes; there are still some people in this city who are not using Pasteurized Milk—good people, too! And that's the reason we keep on advertising. A goodly percentage of those same people are doing some hard thinking on their own account these days and the results are evident in our ever increasing patronage. All we want you to do is to consider the question of purity in your milk supply. If you will consider this point deeply we are sure you will become a Pasteurized Milk patron. Telephone or order from any of the five wagons.

MANGLED UNDER CARS AT LINDEN

BRAKEMAN ERNEST LONGHENRY
FATALLY INJURED YESTERDAY.

DEATH CAME THIS MORNING

Had Been Running into Janesville for Past Seven Years and Possessed Hundreds of Friends Here.

Ernest Longhenry, a passenger brakeman employed by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company, was caught under the wheels of a freight on the Mineral Point & Northern road at Linden, Wis., yesterday, and his injuries resulted in death at an early hour this morning. Longhenry had secured a thirty-day leave of absence from the St. Paul road and was trying freight braking on the M. & N. being desirous of securing a position that would not keep him away from home as much as his run on the St. Paul line. He was working on a train in charge of Conductor Bernard Dunwiddie and Engineer Patrick Whalen, both former Janesville residents. While Longhenry was between two cars, at work on the coupler, the train was suddenly backed. His left leg was cut off below the knee, the right leg fractured, both limbs cut and bruised about the hips, internal injuries inflicted, one shoulder gashed and the scalp about the base of the brain torn. He was not unconscious and though hurried to Mineral Point he suffered terrible pain before surgical aid could be given him. Two Mineral Point physicians dressed his wounds, but pain became so intense during the night that a hypodermic injection was resorted to. This was followed by a hemorrhage and death came at four o'clock this morning.

Wife and Parents
In Janesville Mr. Longhenry had a host of friends. He had been on the Mineral Point and Janesville passenger run for about seven years and of late had been taking his dinners at the Interurban hotel. He was universally liked and his presence on the Mineral Point train was missed by many regular passengers. He is survived by a wife at Mineral Point, having been married two and a half years ago, a father and mother, residing at Plattville, and a brother engaged in the lead and zinc mining business at Mineral Point and Hazel Green.

Vaughan is to be the leader and "The Public Health" will be the subject. A first glance this topic may seem an austere and forbidding one for after-dinner discussion, but assurances are given that few statistics and only occasional moments of gravity are to be anticipated.

KEG-LIFTING CONTEST WAS BECOMING RIOTOUS

Little Diversion in Post-Office Alley Was Discontinued at Request of Officer Benke.

On a wager of $5 with a local resident, a town of Harmony farmer sought to demonstrate in the post-office alley yesterday afternoon that he could lift one of the large size empty beer-kegs over his head with one hand. This was innocent sport but the character of the hold had precipitated a quarrel between the bidders which was rapidly approaching a climax in a free-for-all fight. Officer Benke appeared on the scene about this time, put an end to the pastime, and dispersed the crowd.

M'GRANE VS. TERNEY CASE IS DISMISSED

Judge Grimm Filed Written Opinion Today—Testimony Taken in Russell Cases.

In circuit court today Judge Grimm handed down a judgment for the defendants in the action of John McGrane et al. vs. John D. Terney et al. of Fulton, the trial of which was opened last Thursday. The plaintiffs sought to set aside a conveyance of certain property by the late Anna McGrane of Fulton to the defendant, claiming that she was unduly influenced and the relatives and natural heirs defrauded. Three weeks prior to her death, over a decade ago, she deeded the same to the said Terney. In his written opinion the Judge finds that proofs are convincing not only that the defendant practiced no fraud or undue influence upon the grantor, but that the making of the deed was her own intelligent and voluntary act.

Anna McGrane was a generous, warm-hearted, grateful woman, as well as unusually intelligent woman, according to the court. She chose to give her property to the survivor of two nephews who had carried the burden of her work for many years, and whose mother had freely devoted two years of her life to nurse and care for her during her suffering from a loathsome disease, which she knew must end in death. Furthermore, the court finds that the defendant has held adverse possession of the premises in question under claim of title, exclusive of any other right, founded upon a written instrument as being a conveyance, for more than ten years prior to the commencement of this action, and the action is barred under sections 4211 and 4215 R. S.; that it is also barred under Section 4221 R. S.; and that the plaintiffs are estopped from questioning Terney's title over irrevocably by the statutes by reason of their inexcusable laches, they having slept too long upon their rights, if any they had, to now entitle them to relief. Atty. Claude Hendricks appeared for the plaintiffs and J. J. Cunningham for the defendants.

The two actions brought by Alva Russell to recover from the city of Janesville for damage done his property by alleged defects in the highways on June 3 and June 4, 1905, were taken up this afternoon. The first one arises out of the partial engulfing of a team of horses driven by Carl Anderson in the then recently filled but unguarded sewer trench on Center street just south of the old Methodist church, which resulted in one horse being laid off for 14 days. The second one had its origin in a mishap from a similar cause to a vehicle driven by Charles Thompson on Center street the next day. The plaintiff in notices of injury to the city asked $14 and $10 respectively. T. S. Nolan is his attorney and H. L. Maxfield represents the city. The latter in his answer set up the contention that the city was only secondarily liable, the sewer contractors being the parties primarily responsible. To this answer the defense entered a demurrer.

Nelson A. Miles

Lieutenant General Nelson Appleton Miles, of the United States army, retired, was born at Westminister, Mass., on August 8, 1839, and volunteered for the United States army in 1861. His advancement was strangely rapid, so much so that when only 25 years of age he was a major general of volunteers, commanding a division. He was given a post in the regular army at the close of the Civil war, and made a splendid record against various Indian tribes in the far west. He was publicly commended for his conduct of the Apache campaign, which ended in 1886. General Miles represented this country at Queen Victoria's jubilee in 1897 and also represented the United States army on the battlefield during the Turco-Grecian war. He was the commander of the army during the war with Spain, and was made lieutenant general June 6, 1900, and was retired on August 8, 1903. His home is now in Washington.

Mixed His Quaker.

Former Representative Charles T. Cherry was telling some men at Springfield the other day of a baggage man in an Illinois town to which a number of influential Quakers were coming. The baggage man conceived the idea that if the visitors thought he, too, was a Quaker, business might be helped thereby. Consequently, upon the arrival of the delegation at the station the leader was greeted by the baggage man, who solicitously asked: "Has thou the checks for thou baggage?" And yet he wondered why the Quakers smiled.

Cat Fixes Right Time.

A woman received a telephone call one morning last week from a woman friend, asking her the time of day. The friend telephoned back it was 10 a. m., whereas the other explained that her clocks were all at 9:30, which she knew was wrong, as her pet cat had just washed its face, which it did every morning precisely at ten. Hereafter the woman proposes to regulate her clocks by the cat's ablutions.

SECRETARY TAFT TALKS WITH CUBANS

SAYS ELECTION AT AN EARLY DATE IS UNWISE.

BANKERS ALSO SEE HIM

Want Notice of Elections Far in Advance—American Occupation Likely to Last Another Year.

Havana, April 9.—Secretary of War Taft met the conservatives Monday afternoon and discussed the insular situation. He said that owing to economic conditions he considered a national election at an early date to be unwise, and recommended that such election be postponed until the result of the municipal and provincial elections be known.

The conservative representatives expressed their willingness to leave all to the good judgment of the United States. Secretary Taft probably will meet the conservatives again on Wednesday.

After this interview representatives of all the leading banks of Cuba called upon Mr. Taft and asked him to give them one or two years' notice before the holding of national elections, asserting that unless this were done the effect upon commercial conditions in the island would be disastrous.

Don't Want American Money. The bankers urged the secretary not to change the present currency to American money, claiming that to do so would increase the cost of living 12 per cent. The committee of the chamber of commerce spoke to the secretary in a similar vein.

Monday evening Secretary Taft made this statement:

"Various committees waited on me this afternoon. It is impossible to state just what took place, but the consensus of opinion seems to be that it would be wise, and even necessary, to take a census before attempting to hold an election, not only under the present provisional government, but under any subsequent government. It would be wise, in order to test the condition of the country and the operation of the election law, to hold a preliminary election, municipal and not national. I have promised to confer with Gov. Magoon and to consult President Roosevelt, with a view to further conferences with the liberals and the conservatives.

Silent on Other Matters.

"Other matters are pending concerning which I cannot speak, in the first place, because nothing would be gained thereby, and also, as the Spaniards say, it's not convenient." There is a general impression, gathered from what Secretary Taft said, that the American occupation of Cuba will last for another year, at least.

ARRESTED FOR WIFE MURDER.

Far Rockaway Dentist Is Accused of Slaying His Spouse.

New York, April 9.—Dr. Samuel S. Guy, a prominent dentist of Far Rockaway and for a number of years, until recently, coroner of Queens Borough, is under arrest charged with the murder of his wife in their home Monday night.

The woman's body was found lying on the dining-room floor with two bullet wounds in the breast.

Dr. Guy was arrested as he was leaving the house and just as a servant came screaming from one of the doors and told a policeman that her mistress was dead.

Late in the afternoon the doctor left a saloon near his residence and entered his home. It is alleged that he went to the kitchen and annoyed a servant for some minutes, finally being induced to leave the girl by his wife. The servant says that as husband and wife entered the dining-room Mrs. Guy slapped his face. Immediately afterward the door closed and in a few moments two shots startled the girl.

Dr. Guy walked to the hall, took down his overcoat and started out of the house. A policeman met him and asked him where he was going.

"Just to get a cigar," said the doctor, coolly.

A few seconds later, the cries of the servant were heard and the doctor was promptly arrested.

Mrs. Guy was 42 years of age and her husband 56. She was a descendant of the Mott family, which owned practically all of the Rockaways and the members of which are accounted very wealthy.

Night Operator Is Robbed.

At Baxter, Kan., the robbers were captured by Marshal Black, but escaped after shooting the officer through the hand and in the body.

NO DEFENSE MADE AT PUERTO CORTEZ

HONDURANS LEFT, THINKING
THE WAR WAS OVER.

MARINES PROTECT CEIBA

Commander Fullam Acts Promptly to Preserve Order—He Forbade
Bombardments of Coast Towns.

New Orleans, April 9.—That Puerto Cortez was surrendered without fighting and that about 1,500 Honduran soldiers abandoned the port two days before the Nicaraguan troops appeared, was the information brought here Monday night by the steamer Anselm from Puerto Cortez.

The Hondurans did not desert their post through cowardice, according to these dispatches, but decided that the war was over. They returned to the banana plantations where most of them had been employed as laborers before the war began.

American Marines Keep Order.

United States marines closed all saloons in Ceiba after the abandonment of the port by the Hondurans.

The following proclamation was issued by Commander Fullam of the Marietta and Virgil C. Reynolds, United States vice consul:

"To the people of Ceiba: The generals of the Honduran army having left Ceiba, the civil authorities will assume charge of the city government. All liquor saloons will be immediately closed and will remain so. Sailors from the United States ship Marietta will patrol the streets and assist the civil authorities to preserve order and protect property, foreign and private. The sailors are landed as friends of Honduras. All persons are warned that there must be no disorder or violation of the laws of Honduras and all are advised to remain in their homes for the present. In case Nicaraguan forces concentrate at Ceiba, they will not interfere with law-abiding people and there need be no alarm whatever."

Fullam Stops Bombardments.

Puerto Cortez, Honduras, April 4, via New Orleans, April 9.—An authoritative statement of great moment in the relations of the United States to Central American republics has been given out here. It is to the effect that bombardments of coast towns cannot be permitted during the frequent wars and revolutions in Central American states.

The statement is by Commander Fullam of the United States gunboat Marietta and is part of a letter to Gen. Juan J. Estrada, general commanding the Nicaraguan expedition engaged in capturing Honduran ports. Commander Fullam notified Gen. Quitzo, commanding the Honduran forces near Ceiba, that it would be necessary to defend the town from a position outside the city.

LEAVES ALL TO ROOSEVELT.

Will of Mrs. Lulu B. Grover is Filed for Probate.

New York, April 9.—President Roosevelt is the sole beneficiary under the will of Lulu B. Grover of 2089 Lexington avenue, which was filed in the office of the surrogate Monday. No petition was filed with the will and the value of President Roosevelt's bequests are therefore unknown. The main part of the will, which is very brief, reads as follows:

"I give to Theodore Roosevelt at my death everything that is mine, household furniture, personal property, jewelry, diamonds, estate, all money in bank to my credit and cat Snow Drop, Low, and everything that is mine. I owe to Theodore Roosevelt a debt greater than I can ever pay in this world, and in this way I wish to show I am not ungrateful. He has been my good angel who spread his wing of shelter over my peace through life and was my only true friend in trouble. I gladly give my little all to him and only wish it were millions instead of so small an amount. I hope he will accept it in the spirit I give it, and with God's blessing."

It has been announced that President Roosevelt will accept the estate bequeathed him and turn it over to some New York charity. The cat is being cared for now under directions issued by the president.

Fire in an Insane Asylum. Norristown, Pa., April 9.—A disastrous fire broke out late Monday night at the state asylum for the insane which for a time imperiled the lives of 1,250 patients in the male side of the institution. Physicians and nurses at the risk of their lives pulled and dragged the lunatics into places of safety.

King of Italy at Athens.

Athens, April 9.—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, accompanied by Roragn Minister Titoni, Minister of Marine Mirabellio and a number of court dignitaries, arrived here Monday on a visit to King George of Greece. He was given a most enthusiastic welcome by the populace.

Aid Is Sent Starving Russians.

New York, April 9.—The Russian famine relief committee Monday cabled to the Russian Free Economic society at St. Petersburg $20,000 for the purchase of food for Russia's starving peasants, making a total of $30,000 already sent.

The Dog Who Had His Day

Mr. Hoss and Beedle Dog were great cronies. One never saw them separated. They both belonged to an old farmer named Screw, who was very appropriately named, so they both thought, as he got all he could out of every one and spared none.

He was especially hard on Mr. Hoss, whom he forced to work all day in the hot sun and beat and kicked him sadly when he lagged.

"It's a shame," whined Beedle Dog as he crept into Mr. Hoss' stall for the night. "He makes you work too hard. He's a cruel old tike."

"Well, you see," said the horse, "he doesn't understand. He never has to pull a heavy cart, and he doesn't know how we suffer."

"Better teach him, then," said Beedle curtly. "I always believe in giving folks all the information they need."

"How are you going to do it?" queried the horse, munching a mouthful.

"I'll tell you. Tomorrow when he lets you out you make tracks down the road when he isn't looking. Hide in the grove a mile down the road and leave the rest to me."

When Mr. Screw came to look for Mr. Hoss next day he was gone.

"Wonder where in the name of sense he went to now?" he growled.

"I know," spoke up Beedle. "He's sick down the road yonder—awful sick; worked too hard. Guess he'll die."

"How do you know, you brute?"

"Saw him," said Beedle. "Better get your wagon and go down and get him, or you'll have a funeral."

"How'm I to get it down that?"

"Pull it, I guess. Walking's good."

So off they set. Beedle heading at a rapid pace and poor Mr. Screw pulling hard between the shafts.

"Mr. it's hot!" said Screw.

"Rather warm," said Beedle.

"Heavy as lead," said Screw.

"Rather weighty," laughed Beedle.

Soon they came to Mr. Hoss. Mr. Screw was played out.

"Feel better?" said Beedle.

"Yes. I'll pull home," the horse replied.

As they went down the road Beedle said:

"Guess he knows now."—Atlanta Constitution.

NOT SO BADLY MADE AFTER ALL

One day the giraffe and the elephant met on a plain by the side of the river Nile.

"I agree with you," said the giraffe hotly. "We were made to be perfect sights. Why, in the name of goodness, were we not made better looking? I can't for the life of me see. Look at my rubber neck. It's so long and ugly that I feel uneasy whenever I go out in society. Why, I can't find a place in all Egypt where I can get a collar to fit me, and even if I could I could not get money enough together to pay for having it washed."

"True, true," said the elephant sadly. "And just look what a sight I am. It's bad enough to be covered with a hide

"I GUESS WE WERE NOT MADE SO BADLY," like leather, all wrinkled and ugly, without having to have a tail put on my front end as well as my rear."

"I don't see," cried the elephant, switching his proboscis angrily, "why they ever made us such frights."

But just then it was dinner time, and both were hungry.

Mr. Giraffe reached gracefully up with his long neck and took a mouthful of sweet palm fronds.

"Couldn't have done that without your neck," said Mr. Elephant.

Then he reached down and got a good whisp of rich grass and put it into his little mouth.

"Couldn't have done that without your trunk," said the giraffe.

"True," said the elephant. "I guess we weren't made so badly after all."

HEIGHT OF THE CLOUDS.

Measurement Shows They Are from One to Six Miles Away.

When the illuminating tests of the new high-pressure fountain in the Schwarzenbergplatz, Vienna, were made a remarkable cone of light was observed, appearing as though projected by a searchlight, says the London Post. When this beam of light fell on a cloud an exceedingly bright spot appeared in the heavens. Dr. Rhaden, assistant at the Vienna observatory, observing the angle which the bright spot made with the horizon, had the happy thought of using it to determine the height of the clouds.

A simple geometrical calculation permits of this and from a number of observations cloud heights were deduced ranging from 1,550 to 10,070 meters, or from one to six miles approximately. A peculiar fact was that sometimes during weather that was apparently perfectly clear a bright spot would appear in the projection of the beam of light, showing the presence of a stratum of fine vapor, ordinarily visible with difficulty or entirely invisible. On one occasion this vapor stratum proved to be more than six and a half miles high.

POINT HAD BEEN PROVED.

No Need for Young Man to Carry Experiment Further.

A young man who had inherited a large fortune from a rich but very economical relative decided to live on a scale commensurate with his greatly increased income, and was making arrangements to build a fine mansion, buy an automobile and invest in other expensive luxuries, when an elderly friend who had always been one of his advisers undertook to remonstrate with him. "What's this I hear about your squandering the money your uncle left you, Harry?" said the elderly friend. "I am not going to squander it," he answered, "but I'm going to get some good out of it." "It's enough to make him turn over in his grave. Didn't your uncle prove in his own case that a man could live on a personal expenditure of less than $1,000 a year?" "Yes," "Well," he proved it so thoroughly that I accept it as demonstrated. What is the use of my continuing the experiment?"—Youth's Companion.

Laughter the Best Tonic.

Laughter is a good, healthy, muscle-making, lung-developing exercise, and it is as good for girls as boys. And humor can't be cultivated in a girl's mind without any abatement of the dignity and modesty and charm of her womanhood. Not the unpleasant and constant frivolity evidenced in "smart" speech or quickness of repartee, but the humor that looks at the world with a twinkle in the eye and sees its absurdities, its smallness and its fun, says a writer. It should be part of every woman's mental equipment, for women are called upon to bear so many of life's small worries as well as its greater ones. The bringing up of children, the care of servants, and the many social duties that become a burden, are all made easy and possible to put up with by the woman with an unfailing sense of humor and of the bright side of life.

The Change in Surgeons.

"The surgeon of the past was a huge, coarse, red-faced brute, a very terror," said a surgeon of the present. "And no wonder. What type of man but the brute type could cut off legs or saw through the skull while the patient, perfectly conscious, howled and wept? In the past surgery was barred to gentle and refined men. Whatever their interest in anatomy, in medicine, they shunned surgery. They could not endure to operate upon a conscious subject. The advent of anaesthetics caused the advent of 'new men' into surgery. Men of delicacy, of sympathy, of imagination—a higher type—took the profession up. That is why surgery is continually advancing now, whereas in the past it stood dead still."

Could Use Him Later.

When "Gipsy" Smith spoke at a banquet the other evening he told a story which, he said, he had brought from England. An old Yorkshire farmer drove into Leeds on a market day behind a rather stolid-looking animal. Pulling up at the door of a business house, he threw the reins over the mare's back and alighted from the cart. A young man in search of a job happened by. "Shall I hold her for you?" he asked. "No," replied the farmer. "She don't need any holding. She'll stand all right." The young man was walking away when the farmer shouted to him: "Hey, there," he said, "you can come back in half an hour and help to start her."

A Real Distinction.

A young matron of New York is the only one of her family who is not in "Who's Who," her father being a well known clergyman and her mother, brother and sister being more or less celebrated writers. One day her sister was condoling with her on her lack of distinction in this respect. "Never mind, Belle," said the literary sister; "you may not be in 'Who's Who,' but you're the only member of the family who is in the telephone book, and that costs real money."
